

The Paris Party

A certain timeless notion of Paris comes to life in an exhibition entitled Paris est une fête... (Paris is a Party) at the Studio Willy Rizzo. The show brings together some 30 photographs by master photographer Willy Rizzo of the celebrated simply having fun in the French capital. The photographs depict world-renowned artists enjoying themselves in the city be it by monuments, in the streets or in cafés. Audrey Hepburn plays with balloons in the Tuileries, Jane Fonda sits at a table at the quintessential Parisian institution that is the Brasserie Lipp, a joyful Jack Nicholson emerges on the rooftops of the Place Vendôme, Keanu Reeves barefoot on a balcony at the Plaza Athénée hotel and Fred Astaire on the terrace of Fouquet's. The original photographs in black and white or colour have each been brought out in a limited, signed and numbered edition of eight. - P.V.
